Seven-day patient care plan for town

HAVERHILL is set to get a new walk-in health centre – the first of its kind in Suffolk.

Health chiefs said this week that the centre, to be open from 8am to 8pm seven days a week, would provide additional GP appointments and walk-in health services.

The Government-funded initiative would be in addition to existing health facilities in the town.

The Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT) board will receive a report at its meeting next Wednesday on where to put the new clinic, which it says will improve and increase patients' access to health services.

The Government announced last year that it

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

wants all PCTs to have one new GP-led health centre, which it will fund.

The PCT has drawn up a shortlist of possible locations for the centre in its area – Ipswich, Bury St Edmunds and Haverhill – and the board will be asked to support a recommendation to put the centre in Haverhill, subject to people's views on the plan.

Haverhill's beleaguered doctors – who face cuts of up to £300,000 in their budget over the next five years – were not told of the plan. They have backed the move but expressed concern about its implications for existing facilities.

A petition with 10,000 signatures protesting at the proposed GP budget cuts was handed over to the Prime Minister before Christmas by representatives of the Christmas Maltings surgery in Haverhill.

MP Richard Spring, who supported the protest, welcomed the new plan for the walk-in health centre.

He said: "This is very good news for Haverhill. I think after attending the public meeting in Haverhill, (PCT chief executive) Carole Taylor-Brown realised the level of public feeling in the town.

"I am very pleased about this and I think your newspaper's very good coverage of the issue has helped to bring this about."

Dr Andrew Cornish, from the Christmas Maltings practice, said it "beggared belief" that local doctors had been told nothing of the plan.

Karma's plea for funding

TWO friends want readers of the Weekly News to join them on a charity skydive to raise money for children in the UK and India.

Chris Chapman, 26, of Rickling Green and Richard Moore, 25, of Lidgate, are organising the skydive in April as part of a bid to raise £8,500 to enable them to take part in a drive across India.

Chris and Richard, who are calling themselves Karma Venture, hope to drive an Ambassador – the first car built in India – 2,000km across southern India as part of an event organised by Global Enduro.

Global Enduro hopes to give £75,000 to The Rainbow Trust, which cares for UK families with children who have terminal and life-threatening illnesses, and £75,000 to Adventure Ashram, which provides hospital and educational facilities in parts of southern India.

Anyone taking part in the skydive needs to raise £270 by the end of March. Chris and Richard will provide transport to and from the jump site, near March. Participants will do a tandem skydive with a trained instructor and have full insurance.

Chris, a sound engineer, met Richard, an agricultural engineer, when they were at Saffron Walden County High School. Chris said: "We wanted to take part in a life-changing event and raise some money for worthwhile causes."

To find out more go to www.karmaventure.co.uk email chris@karmaventure.co.uk or call (07764) 492569.

■ TOASTING SUCCESS . . . Martin Jeffrey has passed three exams with distinction to become the wine expert at Sainsbury's Haverhill store.

Three 'distinct' cheers for wine buff

A MAN who really knows his chablis from his chardonnay can now be found advising customers about the wine on offer at a supermarket after passing his latest course with distinction.

Martin Jeffrey, who has worked in the beer, wine and spirits department at Sainsbury's in Haverhill for the past two years, has passed the WSET (Wine and Spirit Education Trust) course, scoring a "distinction" at Intermediate level. He then took the Professional Spirit Qualification and passed that with distinction too. He hit his hat-trick when he undertook the WSET Advanced Certificate, which involved blind wine tasting alongside a written exam, and also passed that with distinction. Sharon Dunn, beer, wine and spirits manager at the store, said: "I am immensely proud of Martin's fantastic achievements and it is wonderful to have such a knowledgeable colleague here to help advise other colleagues and customers." Martin, 43, said he was pleased to be given the opportunity to attend the challenging courses. He said: "I have always been interested in the wine and spirit side of retail and thanks to the support I've received from Sainsbury's, I have really expanded my knowledge.

"My colleagues have been really supportive and encouraged me to take all the relevant exams.

"I would also be delighted to hold professional tastings outside of Sainsbury's and would be keen to attend charity fund raising events where my knowledge may help."

Council to close window on local cashier service

PEOPLE will no longer be able to pay their Council Tax bills in person in Haverhill.

The cashier's office at the local council office is to close at the end of the month.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council believes the office in Lower Downs Slade is no longer needed as changes have been made to the way people can pay their Council Tax bills, with outlets at local shops and post offices.

The increase in the number

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

of places to pay, and increasing popularity of direct debit, the council says, has led to the decision to close the cashier's office from next Thursday.

Coun Paul Farmer, cabinet member for resources and efficiency, said: "Before taking the decision to close the cashier's office, we made sure that there were plenty of alternatives for people living in the area.

"Apart from being able to use a card at Payzone outlets in local shops and post offices, people are also increasingly choosing to pay online through St Edmundsbury's website.

"And the big advantage of these options is that they have longer opening times than council offices so they are much more convenient."

People wanting to pay for other council services – to get bulky household items collected, for example, or to pay a parking fine – can still do so at the Lower Downs Slade office reception.

More than 65 per cent of Council Tax payers now choose direct debit to pay their tax bill.

A spokesman for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said one of the part-time staff members affected had retired and two more had chosen not to accept redeployment offers and would be made redundant.

Another two part-time staff members had agreed to change jobs and would be providing reception cover.

Grandmother cleared of teen mum's assault

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A GRANDMOTHER accused of kicking and slapping a teenager was cleared of assault by magistrates.

Joan Smith, who suffers from arthritis, thanked Bury St Edmunds magistrates who found her not guilty.

Her solicitor, Paul Cammiss, told magistrates the accusation that she assaulted a 17-year-old girl, who cannot be named for legal reasons, was a case of mistaken identity.

Jim Spencer, chairman of the bench, told her: "There is clear evidence that an assault did take place, but we are uncertain as to which of the two women committed that assault."

The Haverhill teenager gave evidence to say she had intervened in a dispute between two women outside the Co-op store in the town in December 2006 and one of those women was Joan Smith.

At a later date near the bus stop close to Sainsbury's she said the same woman had attacked her and tried to push her seven-month old son down some steps in his pushchair.

The teenager said: "I saw the woman coming towards me, she called out 'You are the girl from last week'. She laid into me, grabbed one of my arms and started swinging me round. I fell to the ground and she kicked me in the stomach."

Smith, of Broadcroft Crescent, Haverhill, declined to give evidence. Mr Cammiss said while his client admitted being involved in the earlier incident outside the Co-op, she had not been the person at Sainsbury's.

The teenager had said she was "seven out of 10" sure that the person who attacked her was Joan Smith, but Mr Cammiss said magistrates could not be certain this was the case.

Now boarding – from school!

PUPILS took their passports along with them to school, ready to jet off to France or Australia, after their hall was transformed into the departure lounge at Stansted airport.

A group of 85 pupils at Coupals Primary School in Haverhill got a true taste of how the airport runs when a departure lounge was created with check-in desks, shops, cafés and even a plane. The groups of pupils jetted off to their destinations with help from school staff who took on the roles of cabin crew and airport workers.

Classroom assistant Sandra Linnane said the event was part of a Key Stage 1 topic work on holidays as part of the international primary curriculum.

Headteacher Charles Hadingham thanked town coun Lisa Carr and Sandra's daughter, Sinead, who both work as security officers at Stansted and were given permission to go along to the school in their uniforms. The school was also grateful to Stansted Airport for loaning signs, including departure gate numbers, and luggage trolleys, to help make the "airport" more realistic. Mrs Linnane said: "It was absolutely brilliant, the children really loved it."

GPs 'in dark' over care plan

He said: "We have been telling them for months about the lack of other services in the town and they have been telling us there is no more money. Now suddenly they are suggesting this."

"Anything that brings more medical services to Haverhill is fantastic, but it beggars belief that we have not been informed of it. Do they really need a new building when the existing facilities could be expanded?"

Ms Taylor-Brown said: "The new health centres will open seven days a week from 8am to 8pm, with links to community services, including social care, diagnostic and pharmacy services."

"There will be walk-in services as well as the chance to book appointments to see a GP. It is all aimed at improving access making it far more convenient for the patients it will serve. These services will be in addition to existing GP services."

"We have carried out a preliminary needs assessment looking at the needs of the local communities and their access to existing NHS services, especially GP services and supporting community/acute facilities. It will be for the board to decide the way forward and we will be listening to the views of local people, but the preliminary findings identify Haverhill as the preferred location."

Reasons outlined in the report for favouring Haverhill are that patients visit GPs more often than the national average and there is a lack of locally-based community health services.

The PCT is planning a six-week public consultation period during February and March.

'Rally will go on for steam man'

THE organising dynamo behind a major local steam rally for almost three decades has died – but others have vowed that the show will go on in his memory.

Don Loveday, 77, died on Friday, January 18, after a brave battle against bowel cancer which was diagnosed in late 2006. He continued to help organise the annual Thurlow Steam Rally and Country Show despite his illness.

Mr Loveday was one of the founders of the steam rally when it started around 27 years ago and helped build it up to an event which attracts thousands of visitors each year to see giant steam and traction engines. It also raises thousands of pounds for village organisations in Thurlow as well as many charities, including the East Anglian Air Ambulance.

Mr Loveday had been married to wife Beattie since 1952 and they had two sons, Patrick and Allan, and grandsons Christopher and Mark.

While born in Great Wrattling, Mr Loveday lived his married life in Thurlow, spending 40 years as a farm worker on Edmund Vestey's estate, then three years at the Haverhill council depot, before taking early retirement.

■ TRIBUTES . . . for steam rally stalwart, Don Loveday.

The original steam rally – which has never actually been held in Thurlow – has moved around various venues, and for the past two years has been held at the Horseheath Point-to-Point course.

Ann Loveday, his daughter-in-law, said: "He was always involved, even when he was ill last year, he still went up in the commentary box and did all the paperwork. It takes a lot of organising and he would be up there at the crack of dawn and stay until late at night."

"He would carry on organising straight away from one year to the next. He spent hours doing it, but he loved it, it was his great hobby."

Michael Pumfrey, a member of the show committee along with his father Robert, said it had been unanimously agreed that the show would go ahead on August 2 and 3 in Don's memory.

He paid tribute to his dedication, and said: "The East Anglian Traction Engine Society used to put on the show, but when it rained every year they pulled out."

"Don did not want it to stop so he carried on running it as an independent rally. If it had not been for him it would not be going today."

"He had the drive, enthusiasm and dedication to make it happen. There was no delegation, he made all the calls and did everything."

"He is a hard act to follow, but we are going to do our best to carry on in his memory."

His funeral will be held at Bury St Edmunds Crematorium on Friday, February 1, at 11.15am. Family flowers only are requested but donations are invited for the St Nicholas Hospice.

Ian Norris, fundraiser at the hospice, said: "He was a kind and very generous supporter of the hospice and we are sorry to see his passing."

Anyone interested in helping organise the rally should contact Mr Pumfrey on (07711) 988332.

Alison Horsley, fundraiser for the East Anglian Air Ambulance, said the group owed a huge debt to Don.

She said: "We held a stall there for the past two years and he was such a fantastic guy, we are very, very sorry to lose him."

"Without Don's support the air ambulance would not have been able to go on and expand its services into Bedfordshire as it has."

"He will be very sorely missed for the huge amount of money he helped raise and the enjoyment the rally gave to thousands of people who travelled from all over. He will be very hard for the area to replace, he was such a stalwart."

Arctic trip to help canine pals

DOG lover Jessica Mulcock is taking on a challenge to drive a team of huskies 100 miles across the Arctic.

Jessica, of Teasel Close, Haverhill, will take part in the charity challenge in March to raise money for all the dogs who are cared for and re-homed through the Dogs Trust.

In August she was approached by a woman canvassing door-to-door for the charity and signed up on the spot to sponsor a beautiful dog named Bounty who lives in Ilfracombe, at one of the charity's 17 rehoming centres around the UK.

She said: "My dog periodically sends me newsletters and birthday cards to keep me updated on his progress and wellbeing.

"Along with my December letter, there was an advertisement for the Arctic challenge which caught my eye but it was not a serious consideration as I could not find anyone who would consider taking part with me.

"Then I received a newsletter email from the charity with five ideas to help the Dogs Trust this year.

"I decided to do all I could to help animals and get my friends and family to 'feel' for them as much as I do and help by sponsoring me.

She will be making the journey with a team raising sponsorship for the Dogs Trust.

Anyone interested in sponsoring Jessica should contact (07951) 688628.

Cuts could close village surgeries

TWO village surgeries could close in April as budget cuts to doctors' practices in Haverhill begin to bite.

Ann Sisson, manager at one of the two practices at Christmas Maltings, said the closures of surgeries in Kedington and Great Thurlow "flew in the face" of claims by Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT) that patients would not suffer as a result of cuts totalling almost £300,000 over the next five years.

She said: "The PCT has said time and time again that patients will not suffer, but a lot of people at Kedington and Thurlow will suffer, especially elderly patients who pick up prescriptions.

"Our patients are already suffering and where will it end? People will have to travel into Haverhill and we are already having to cut nursing staff because we just have not got the money.

"There is no more negotiation with the PCT, they are just not listening to us. I am sure the practice does not want to cut these surgeries, but feels it has no choice."

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Marion McLaine, practice manager for Dr Cornish and partners at Christmas Maltings, who run the village surgeries, said they had been "reluctantly" forced to propose the closures because of budget cuts.

She said: "It was a very difficult decision for the partners to take, but we have had to review all our services in the light of budget cuts.

"On four days a week we have a doctor at the Kedington surgery and we need that doctor back at the main surgery. We want to retain the service where people can collect medication once a week and we are looking at a replacement for that."

Julian Herbert, deputy chief executive of Suffolk PCT, said: "The practice which runs the branch surgeries at Kedington and Thurlow has told us that it wishes to review how it provides services to patients in these areas.

"We advised the practice to inform Haverhill Town Council and patients of its plans. The PCT will ask patients what their views are of this proposed change and ultimately the decision will be based on this consultation.

"We would encourage the surgeries to look at what efficiencies could be achieved by merging administrative and non-patient care functions, for example receptions, rather than re-organise their GPs or nursing staff.

"It is our job to make sure that GP practices provide a high-quality service to all their patients and the practice will need to demonstrate how it plans to do this before any decision is made."

The Kedington surgery currently opens from 1.30pm-2.30pm each day and the Thurlow surgery opens for 30 minutes every Tuesday at lunchtime.

Concerns linger over safety at play centre

Sir, As the parents of Tai Rose, who sustained an injury at Boomerangs in October, we would like to comment on the recent report about Boomerangs in your newspaper (New centre is safe, says council report – Weekly News, January 3). Although we are pleased that St Edmundsbury Borough Council has concluded that Boomerangs equipment is safe – as we do not want another child to be subject to an injury of any kind – we can only say that we feel a little frustrated as to the outcome. It is not clear as to how our son incurred his injury, but we do know that it happened while he was playing within the soft play area at Boomerangs. The report we have received back from the district environmental health officer at St Edmundsbury Borough Council states that although an officer has visited the premises since Tai's injury, they can only confirm that an inspection was carried out prior to it happening on October 10, 2007, where they found the equipment to be "generally satisfactory". Tai's injury happened on October 26, and we cannot understand how they can be satisfied that the soft play equipment is safe since Tai's injury. They stated within the letter we received that they are "satisfied Boomerangs have taken all reasonable steps to prevent such an occurrence", however an incident did happen after and no inspection has taken place since, to our knowledge, as confirmed by the district environmental health officer.

We have also requested a report back from the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents, but have still not had any response. As concerned parents, it is extremely frustrating as we do not want this happening to another child and it is extremely difficult when we feel as though certain steps have not been put into action. How can they be sure that the equipment is safe 16 days after an inspection when an injury has occurred?

We can only hope that another child will not be subject to any kind of injury at Boomerangs in the future.

Probation order for man who took law into his own hands

Pictures: Richard Patterson 456909/10.

Time to brush up on health message

TINY TOTS tried their hand with a giant toothbrush as their playgroup got a visit to help remind them to look after their teeth.

Sue Hunter, an oral health educator for Suffolk PCT's dental team, paid a visit to the Happy Faces Playgroup at its headquarters in Colne Valley, Road, Haverhill. She took along some props to help spread the message about the importance of cleaning teeth, having regular dental check-ups and eating a healthy diet. Elaine Hatfield, play leader at the group, said they tried to arrange a dental visit once a year as part of a range of people from the community coming to Happy Faces. She said: "If they come here and bring in things like bibs and mirrors that are used at the dentist, then the children are less anxious about going there." Anyone interested in places at Happy Faces should ring (01440) 762515.

A BANKRUPT father of four who took the law into his own hands after being sold a stolen mobile phone has escaped a jail sentence.

Mark Carr, 31, decided on direct action after the man who sold the phone refused to give him a refund, Ipswich Crown Court heard.

Carr, from Trefoil Court, Haverhill, appeared last week for sentencing after having pleaded guilty to affray. He was made the subject of a 12-month order placing him under the supervision of the Probation Service and ordered to take part in a Think First programme, designed to reduce the risk of offending.

Judge John Devaux warned him that breaching either order risked a jail sentence.

The court heard that Carr arranged to meet Ricky Morris, the man who sold him the phone, in Haverhill town centre in April last year, then chased him into a cul-de-sac and confronted him in front of a family with young children.

Prosecutor Peter Gair said the chase continued in and out of a property in the close before a neighbour stepped in and separated the men.

It was then that Carr told Mr Morris that if he could not have the £30 he had paid for the phone he would have a gold chain that Mr Morris was wearing. Carr ripped it from his neck before running from the scene down a nearby alleyway.

Mr Gair said the chain, which had since been handed over to police by Carr, was valued at £350.

Carr told police that the mobile phone, which had been for his partner to use, stopped working just a few days after he purchased it from Mr Morris. It later emerged that it had been remotely switched off having been reported as stolen.

Mr Gair said that Mr Morris subsequently pleaded guilty in the magistrates court to the theft of a mobile phone.

In mitigation, Priyadarshani Khanna said Carr was "not a man reluctant to face his own wrong-doing" and had pleaded guilty at an early stage and shown genuine remorse.

She said a custodial sentence, while punishing Carr, would also have a serious impact on his partner for whom he was principal carer and their four children aged four to 11.

Miss Khanna added that because Carr had been declared bankrupt he also had no assets from which he could pay a financial penalty.

Sentencing Carr, Judge Devaux said: "What you did was to take your own illegal measures to collect a debt."

Legal win in Council Tax war

TWO RESIDENTS in the Haverhill area will not be able to avoid paying their overdue Council Tax following successful legal moves.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council was successful in gaining "charging orders" at Bury St Edmunds County Court, which means that when the debtors sell their property, or try to remortgage or raise loans secured on it, the amount owed to the council will be paid before any money goes to the owners.

Following the court order a charge is entered with the Land Registry, which holds details of all such charges. It is the first time St Edmundsbury has tackled long-standing debtors in this way.

Coun Paul Farmer, cabinet member for resources and efficiency, said: "We have always chased debtors vigorously, giving them every opportunity to pay what they owe. But there are always a few – luckily a very few – who refuse to pay, and their selfish inaction means every other Council Tax payer has to pick up their bill. These charging orders are one more weapon in our arsenal, and a powerful one, but it is one we will only use as a last resort. This is a message to all those who think they can get away with tax dodging – we will keep chasing you."

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

People have many opportunities to pay their Council Tax debts before the borough council opts for recovery methods such as charging orders, or an attachment of earnings or benefit (where instalments are taken directly from pay packets or benefits payments before they go to the debtor). These recovery options include a reminder, court summons, and visits by bailiffs. The council uses the methods only when debtors refuse to pay, or talk about how they can pay.

Police to seek views of public

POLICE SAFER Neighbourhood teams will be holding briefings and community consultations across the west of St Edmundsbury district over the next two weeks.

They will be at Haverhill Housing offices, Haverhill, tomorrow from

MP visits playgroup

MP RICHARD Spring has visited the Sandcastles Playgroup in Haverhill to congratulate staff on its recent outstanding Ofsted report.

He met Janette Kempen, play leader, to see the playgroup's facilities and to congratulate the playgroup for receiving an excellent Ofsted report on outstanding quality and standards of care and education in December. The group was founded 22 years ago, with just 15 pupils, by parents and staff at Castle Manor School. It has gone from strength to strength, and now has 68 pupils aged from three to five years old.

Mr Spring said: "I always enjoy meeting children at this age who are just starting out with their education. Sandcastle Playgroup provides a wonderful environment which encourages young children to flourish."

Cash for day centre

MP RICHARD Spring has handed over a £50 cheque to Haverhill Day Centre.

The money is a fee earned by Mr Spring for taking part in a Parliamentary survey.

The day centre in Camps Road provides services to frail people or those at risk who prefer to continue living in their own homes, but need some support during the day.

Mr Spring met staff and volunteers at the day centre to hand over the money.

He said "Haverhill Day

Centre provides an excellent range of services.

"It is an essential point of social contact, support, and information to those who might otherwise struggle with many aspects of life at home.

"I am greatly admiring of the staff and volunteers who give so much to its visitors. It really is important that centres like this one remain open as they provide a lifeline to so many vulnerable people living in Haverhill."

A FORMER traffic warden known for his tough stance against erring motorists is saying goodbye to the town where he has patrolled the streets for 12 years.

John Woodgate handed out a bumper 11,000 parking tickets during his 10 years as a traffic warden, including 1,560 in one year alone.

The 59-year-old is moving to Sudbury after working as a traffic warden in Haverhill for 10 years, followed by another two years as a police community support officer.

Adrian Dawson, sector commander for Haverhill, presented him with a parting gift from colleagues at Haverhill police station and paid tribute to his dedication.

Inspector Dawson said: "You have certainly been a character in the town and in the station and you are very well thought of by people here. We are sorry to see you go, but wish you all the best for your time in Sudbury."

"People in Haverhill can be proud of the work you have done here. One of the biggest complaints I get is about parking in the town centre, and you have certainly helped the citizens of Haverhill to have a free flowing High Street."

"You have never been afraid

to stand up for what is right for the town."

John is a keen cyclist and has cycled 15 miles a day to work from his home for most of his time at Haverhill, but now he will have to travel only three miles to Sudbury.

He fell off his bike after cycling to Yorkshire last year, breaking his arm, and was off work for three months. He also injured his knee, which meant he had to cut down on his cycling.

John said: "One minute I was completely fit and the next I could not pull up my trousers. I don't cycle as much as I did, but I still walk to Sainsbury's and back twice a day on patrol, which is about six miles."

"My wife has warned all her friends not to park on yellow lines in Sudbury. People in Haverhill have been fantastic to me in the two years that I have been a PCSO. The public perception of PCSOs is completely different to a traffic warden – they like to see the uniform."

Barn plan

A LISTED building application has been made for alterations associated with the conversion of part of a barn to a residential annexe at Brockley Green Farm, Hundon. The revised plan submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council includes insertion of new windows between studs in the external frame and raising and replacement of three windows to the courtyard elevation.

New access

PLANS to build an access road on to the main A143 road at Great Thurlow have been submitted to planners by Thurlow Estate Farms.

The plan, sent to St Edmundsbury Borough Council, is for a new access at the entrance adjacent to A143, near Harlica Farm, Great Thurlow.

Conversion

PLANS to convert a redundant rural building to form a house with a detached cart lodge, after demolition of an existing storage barn, at Hundon Hall Barn, have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Homebuyers' uphill battle

BY John Morgan
Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

FIRST-TIME buyers in the region need large incomes of anything from £40,000 to as high as £78,000 to get a foot on the housing ladder, according to a new report.

The shocking figure was revealed by the National Housing Federation and experts say first-time buyers "face a life on hold" as a result of the astronomical incomes needed to buy their first home.

Average house prices in the region are 10 times the average salary and thousands of people are currently on the waiting list for council housing.

In the Newmarket area people wanting to buy a house would need to be earning a whopping £47,375 a year. But estate agents think potential first-time buyers across the region should not panic.

Mike Stubbins, consultant at Pocock and Shaw in Ely, said: "People are still buying, but they are more cautious."

"It's certainly a stretch for first-time buyers, but then that's

	Average house price	Wage required for mortgage (95%, 3.5 x income)	Ratio of house price to average earnings	Number of households on waiting lists
Cambridgeshire	£212,999	£57,814	10.1	14,797
Cambridge	£271,086	£73,580	12.5	4,743
East Cambridgeshire	£200,549	£54,435	9.6	1,442
Fenland	£146,820	£39,851	7.5	2,032
Huntingdonshire	£195,883	£53,168	9.7	2,425
South Cambridgeshire	£258,457	£70,153	11.2	4,155
Forest Heath	£174,540	£47,375	12.1	1,505

always been the case. There are still many new build homes which are well within the reach of most first-time buyers. You can buy a nice two-bedroom home with a garage in Sutton for £149,000 to £160,000.

"Properties in the centre of Ely are quite high and we don't see too many first-time buyers there."

"But demand is still strong for houses, particularly with commuters as rail access to London and Cambridge is very good. House

Commuting to the capital still makes sense

COMMUTING to London from Cambridge is still a cheaper option than moving to the capital, according to research by the Mortgage Advice Bureau (MAB).

The study, based on official Land Registry figures, shows that the 124-mile daily round trip to London now saves Cambridge residents an average of £418 each month, because London house prices are so much more expensive.

prices are much lower in the Ely area so it's a very popular place to buy."

In the past 10 years prices have trebled and even at the cheap end of the market homes cost seven-times median regional incomes.

Banks and mortgage companies generally lend no more than five times salary.

Socially rented homes are also becoming harder to find. For every two "social" homes for rent built in the region last year, one existing home was lost when tenants exercised their "right to buy."

Gina King, the National Housing Federation's head of region, said: "With house prices in the region set to rise faster than anywhere else in the country over the next five years, we face an unhappy prospect of longer waiting lists, more overcrowding and more adult children unable to move away from the parental home."

"Figures tell us that high demand from a fast growing population, and a continued under-provision of new housing supply will maintain pressure on an already over inflated housing market, and this will mean that house prices will inevitably keep on rising."

She said overall housing supply was 25 per cent below requirements, and social housing provision was only half what is needed.

MP calls for tougher measures as even six year olds become prey

Record 376 children mugged in the street

■ ABSOLUTELY HORRENDOUS . . . children may find it hard to recover from the experience of being mugged.

THE number of children being mugged for their valuables has soared – with some as young as six falling prey to robbers.

Street robberies on youngsters have tripled in Cambridgeshire in three years.

In that time police have recorded 376 muggings on under-17s, according to figures obtained using the Freedom of Information Act.

During 2004-05, there were 67 street robberies on young people which included a six year old, two seven year olds and seven under-10s.

And from 2005-06, the number of young victims leaped to 123 with another six year old being mugged.

But in 2006-07, the numbers shot up to 186 – and 24 of the victims were under 12.

One teen had a gun held to his head, another was threatened with a kitchen knife.

Jim Paice, Conservative MP for South East Cambridgeshire, was horrified.

BY Raymond Brown

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

He said: "The fact two six year olds have been mugged in the street as well as all the other youngsters is absolutely horrendous.

"The Government is doing nothing to tackle the fundamental problems in society – or as David Cameron said, 'our broken society'.

"You can hand out all the anti-social behaviour orders you like, but the fact is some parents are just not caring for their kids. We have broken homes, no discipline from parents or respect for other people's property instilled into youngsters.

"To say that children carry around more valuables like mobile phones shouldn't be an excuse. You can lock them up in prison but it won't stop them. I think these people who mug a six-year-old should be shot. It's horrendous. These children might never get over it."

Carrie Herbert, director of the Cambridge-based learning centre for bullying victims, Red Balloon, is used to helping children overcome horrific bullying.

But she said: "I am absolutely shocked that children as young as six are being mugged. I'm also horrified the number of muggings on young people has tripled. We really need to do something about this shocking rise."

She had advice for parents whose child had been mugged: "If the child is taking it very hard they may need therapy or counselling. Parents have to take what the child says seriously and don't tell them off for it. They need support. Ask your GP or the police for help."

Guns and knives have even been used by muggers against teens. One 16 year old was dragged off High Street, in March, at 9.30pm on November 13, 2006, before being joined by two others, who took his wallet and a necklace.

In another mugging, a robber out of jail on licence threatened a 17-year-old with a six-inch kitchen knife and stole his wallet.

He was walking home along Gilbert Road in Cambridge when Douglas Crawford – free after a three-year stint in a young offender institution for mugging youngsters on the city's streets – pounced.

Crawford, 19, held the knife against the teen's chest as he demanded his wallet and mobile phone.

Jailed in 2003 for five street robberies, drug addict Crawford pleaded guilty to theft and common assault and was sentenced to 21 months in custody in March 2006.

The number of young muggers. Police charged or cautioned 168 under-17s for the crime from 2004-07. In 2004-05, 36 young muggers were caught including five 11 year olds and three aged 12. That figure doubled in 2005-06 when 79 young muggers were caught, but in 2006-7 the number dropped to 53.

Keep chips updated

A CAT charity has urged owners to keep address details up to date if their pet is microchipped.

Cats Protection is looking after a cat found in Haverhill which has a microchip. But it has been unable to find the owner at the address recorded. The eight-year-old black-and-white long haired cat called Jay, pictured right, was found in the Haverhill area about a year ago.

Louise Tabron, a foster carer for Cats Protection in Haverhill, said: "When we found the cat had a microchip we thought we would be able to find the owner quite easily, but it seems they have moved. "It is important for owners to make sure that their details are updated on the microchip records if they move."

The owner was recorded as Lydia Stephens, of Mildenhall, but she could not be traced. The owner can contact Ms Tabron on (01440) 760923.

Theft from vehicle

A SATELLITE navigation system and a stereo were stolen from a car parked overnight in Haverhill.

The theft happened in Dovehouse Road, Haverhill between 7.30pm on Monday, January 13 and 7.30am the next morning, when offenders broke into a blue Citroen Saxo on a driveway by smashing a window.

Owners are reminded to remove items of value from their vehicles while unattended. Anyone with information about the incident should call Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on (0800) 555111.

English lessons are family affair

FAMILIES who need help to speak English have been taking part in learning sessions at a school in Haverhill.

The lessons for families who do not have English as their first language have been launched at Castle Hill Middle School in Haverhill. Staff at West Suffolk College in Haverhill were approached by deputy head Tanya Devereux, who had identified a shortage of family-based learning for people coming to work in the area from abroad.

Children are automatically given English language teaching, but this project means that the whole family can be included. West Suffolk College has set up a weekly session, which takes place every Thursday at 3.15pm in the school.

The class is open to all pupils at Castle Hill Middle School and their families.

Barbara Adshead, Haverhill Centre head, said: "The whole family is welcome to come along and join us. Castle Hill has made everyone really welcome and the sessions are a great idea to help get everyone involved. All nationalities can join the classes and we welcome everyone, from baby brothers and sisters up to grandparents." The college also offers ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) classes for anyone who wants to improve their English language skills. Employers or individuals should contact West Suffolk College in Haverhill on (01440) 712177.

Tenants get praise for prompt payment

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

TENANTS who pay up on time have helped West Suffolk landlord Havebury Housing Partnership to be ranked among the UK's top 10 housing associations for rent payment by its residents.

Out of 98 housing associations who submitted their data, Havebury was rated seventh nationally and fourth in the East Anglian region, with current rent arrears levels at 1.99 per cent.

Figures on the number of properties left empty without a tenant rate Havebury sixth nationally and first regionally out of 101 housing associations.

Havebury's director of housing, Karen Mayhew, said: "We are delighted that Havebury has come out so highly in this national survey on rent payments and would like to thank our tenants for working so successfully with us to achieve this."

The survey was carried out by Housemark, a joint initiative between the Chartered Institute of Housing (CIH) and the National Housing Federation (NHF) which aims to improve social housing standards.

Havebury provides guidance to residents on financial matters through its Benefits Advice Team.

A drop-in service is provided at its Bury St Edmunds and Haverhill offices on Wednesdays from 9am to 12.30pm.

Havebury also supports the new branch of the Ipswich and Suffolk Credit Union, which provides a saving scheme for those who have difficulty opening a bank account and offers low-cost loans for regular savers.

Three minibus wheels taken

THREE alloy wheels were stolen from a minibus parked in Haverhill for just 20 minutes.

The theft took place at a car park in Hellions Walk, Haverhill, between 5pm and 5.20pm on Wednesday, January 16, when the wheels were taken from a silver Ford Torino minibus.

Anyone with information about the theft should call Pc Guy Ainsworth at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on (0800) 555111.

Police warning on bogus house callers

RESIDENTS of Haverhill and the surrounding areas have been warned to be on their guard against bogus callers after a spate of offences across the border in North Essex.

Within a two-hour period on Thursday, January 17, there were reports of four distraction burglaries in the Braintree and Halstead areas of north Essex. When this has happened in the past, similar offences have also been committed in the western part of Suffolk between Clare and Newmarket, including Haverhill and villages between.

Suffolk Police advise residents to be on their guard should bogus callers call and ring 999 straight away. They should not let anyone into their home that they are not completely happy about, and always check for identification.

Police added it is never necessary to enter a property to run taps to deal with a "problem down the road", as bogus workmen sometimes claim.

The latest incident in Essex involved three males purporting to be from the water board. A suspicious white van and a brown or burgundy-coloured pick-up truck have been seen.

Anyone with any information can call Suffolk Police on (01284) 774100.

THE BIG HUSH!

Macmillan's Big Hush ~ Friday 25th January 2008

In the UK, over a million people are living with cancer and more than one in three people will be diagnosed with cancer during their lifetime. These figures are forecast to increase. For those people, living with cancer still means living life to the full, no matter what the prognosis. At Macmillan, we aim to help people do just that.

Last year £320,000 was raised for people living with cancer and this year Macmillan want to make it even bigger! The Haverhill Weekly News will be donating 10% of all proceeds made on this page to the charity, but you can help too!

Visit www.macmillan.org.uk to find out ways how you can donate or if you feel you need support.

Little men and big laughs Folk firstborn plays in a different arena

LITTLE people will be roaming around Haverhill Arts Centre for Centre Stage Company's final performances of their 200 panto, Snow White. It's on until Saturday with a matinée at 2.30pm and a performance at 7.30pm.

■ This month's Comedy Night at the Arts Centre on Sunday has a line-up of up-and-coming comedians with plenty of chuckle power. Matt Welcome, Shappi Khorsandi and Dan Atkinson will keep the laughs coming from 8pm.

■ Haverhill Keyboard Club presents Steve Clarke, whose shows are always warmly appreciated, next Tuesday at 7.30pm at the Arts Centre.

■ There have been countless tales told about Jesse James, but who was the man behind the folklore and who was Ford, the youth who brought him down? Find out in The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford (15) at the Arts Centre on Thursday, January 31.

■ It's Haverhill Rock competition time again, with heat one on Friday, February 1 from 8pm. The line-up at the Arts Centre features The Stray, Screaming Popes and Born Out of Nothing. Other heats will be held on Friday, February 8 and Saturday, February 9. The final which will be held on Saturday, February 23 at 8pm.

■ UNPLUGGED . . . acoustic maestro Teddy Thompson.

WHEN your mum and dad are folk royalty, it must be a bit daunting to pick up an acoustic guitar and start strumming for the first time. But it never held back Teddy Thompson, son of Richard and Linda Thompson who found fame on the folk scene in the 1970s. Teddy, who plays The Junction in Cambridge on Monday, played in his dad's band for several years, but broke away in 2000 to release a self-titled debut album. "Musically, I'm different from my parents," he said. "Me and my dad sometimes pass each other in the same city and once in a while one of us will be at the other one's gig and will get up and play which is nice, but it doesn't happen too often any more. "Folk families always like to play together. I love playing with my dad and my mum, but the fact that I don't play folk music puts me in a different arena."

■ To book tickets, which cost £10, call (01223) 511511.

Ever listened to a musical suitcase?

By Jo Deeks

A SMALL village hall is to host a visit from a lively skiffle band to help raise funds for its upkeep.

Ashen Village Hall committee have again teamed up with Essex on Tour to bring the London Philharmonic Skiffle Orchestra, a four-piece music and comedy show band which sets any stage alight with a blaze of colour, high energy, musical dexterity and sheer good-humoured madness from all points of the globe.

To the group, skiffle means that anything goes as long as it is tuneful and fun. Their high-octane live performances are filled with numerous costume changes, lots of instruments, comic routines and audience participation, very much in the spirit of old-time variety and yet with a modern slant.

Instruments played by the orchestra's talented members include the fiddle, guitar, banjo, ukulele, mandolin, trumpet, harmonica, as well as all kinds of percussion – including a suitcase, double bass and even a watering can.

While audiences will recognise much of what they do, it is presented in a unique style alongside original material and comedy which connects with any kind of music-lover from all age groups, to guarantee a good time for one and all.

The all-action performance is set to play Ashen Memorial Hall in The Street on Saturday, February 2, at 7.30pm, with tickets priced at £6.50 in advance with concessions at £5.50, or £7 on the door with concessions £6 and under 15s £4.

For tickets or more information about the gig, call Graham Howard on (01440) 788025 or Lorna Dockerill on 785535.

Detached Family Home

TURPINS Ride is one of Haverhill's most popular developments located on the East side of the town, close to the golf course. The development can now be classed as a mature estate with a collection of well designed detached family homes.

19 Tiberius Close is one of the larger designs and benefits from being positioned at the end of a cul-de-sac and offers a good sized surround plot with mature gardens for £287,000.

The property has been well maintained and updated by the current owners to include a PVCu conservatory and re-fitted kitchen, bathroom and en-suite to master bedroom. A bonus to the property is the temperature controlled air conditioning units that have also been fitted to the upstairs landing and the master bedroom.

The accommodation comprises of: entrance hall, cloakroom, double aspect lounge, conservatory, dining room, kitchen, utility room, master bedroom with en-suite, three further bedrooms and a bathroom.

Outside the enclosed rear garden extends to either side of the property, a patio area leads from the property with a further paved area adjacent to the conservatory, two timber sheds, greenhouse and door to the double garage.

Homes and Gardens

A mini makeover is first step when selling a house

WHEN it comes to selling your home everyone knows that first impressions count.

If you want to give your home the best chance of catching a buyer's eye it's worth taking the time to give yours a mini-makeover.

■ LOOKING GOOD . . . impressive first sight.

However this means more than the smell of coffee brewing, home made bread and fresh flowers, according to Amanda Lamb, presenter of A Place in the Sun, buyers are more interested in the size of your plasma than your home making skills.

She says: "Potential buyers are always impressed with modern technology and in my experience it's been known to clinch a sale. It doesn't matter that the TV or sound system will no longer be there when they move in, it's simply being able to see how good the house looks with the latest gadgets and equipment."

According to the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) adding a conservatory to your home can add around five per cent to the value. Not only does adding a conservatory to your home create an extra room but it buyers want to move into a home that they can live in without having to go through the hassle of redecorating or renovating.

also follows the fashion for blurring the boundary between inside and out.

The kitchen is considered to be the heart of the home and is still key when it comes to selling properties. As a rough guide if you spend around five per cent on a new kitchen it can add up to 15 per cent on the potential selling price. Alternatively, opt for an economical makeover with new door fronts and worktops.

Giving a dreary, dated bathroom a bit of TLC is a must, according to Georgina Brittain, marketing manager for bathroom company Roca UK. She says: "For the last 10 years kitchens have been more important than bathrooms, however bathrooms are increasingly becoming the means to differentiate from other properties and with so much choice of style and price it's easy to achieve a 'look' on most budgets."

A fresh coat of paint is a must when it comes to selling your property. Think neutral shades so the potential buyer can imagine their belongings fitting into place. Remove pictures and ornaments to create a sense of space and get your children to take down their posters – just for the visit.

■ BATHROOM . . . always leaves an impression, whether good or bad is down to you!

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS

MOTORING

Car makers want greener year

MOST car manufacturer's sales charts moved in an upward direction in 2007, but the signs are now clear that their greener approach to motoring is paying off.

The Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders' (SMMT) newly-released sales data shows that the UK's 2007 market total was up by 2.5 per cent – that's 2,404,007 units – but the average new car carbon dioxide (CO₂) figure dropped again, down 1.4 per cent year on year to 164.9g/km, a total fall of 13.1 per cent since 1997.

And the SMMT points out that each vehicle made in Britain requires half the energy to produce than it did just five years ago, saving an estimated 700,000 tonnes of CO₂ a year.

Interesting revelations from the overall 2007 sales output includes the fact that fuel-efficient diesel models have taken a record share, 40.2 per cent – 967,436 units – and that supermini, and small family, cars also posted upward growth.

The top seller of premium motors in Britain last year was BMW, which achieved record total BMW and Mini sales of 169,236 vehicles, a whopping increase of 10 per cent over 2006.

The BMW brand accounted for 121,575 of those sales, up five per cent on 2006, and it was also the German firm's seventh successive year for record sales.

Mini achieved 47,661 registrations, its best annual performance since the vehicle's UK launch in July 2001, representing a 25 per cent increase over 2006.

When it came to CO₂ output, 2007 saw 87 per cent of BMWs sold in the UK fall below the 225g/km figure, and 14 per cent below 140g/km.

The firm says these emissions figures will further improve in 2008 with 95 per cent of BMW UK's sales volume set to be less than 225g/km, and more than 40 per cent of those outputting less than 140g/km.

Spanish marque Seat now has its sights set on a record 2008, after notching up another impressive year of solid sales growth.

The firm's rapidly-expanding selection of sporty, high-value models is clearly connecting with UK buyers seeking the firm's mix of style, safety, and lively Latin spirit.

Seat saw a significant 5.9 per cent sales increase over the last 12 months, a performance which has also seen its market share rise to 1.45 per cent.

The firm's biggest seller last year, and for the first time overtaking the Ibiza, was the Leon five-door family hatch, with 13,488 new registrations.

Even so, the Ibiza three and five-door superminis found 13,085 homes, and the practical Altea attracted 3,667 buyers.

Peter Wyhinny, director of Seat UK, trumpets: "We are, very clearly, a brand which is continuing on the up. Total sales last year were only just shy of our all-time UK record."

Globally, the Peugeot

Citroen sold 3,428,000 vehicles, up 1.8 per cent on its 2006 figure, while in the UK the group's car and light commercial vehicle registrations, bolstered by the popular new Citroen C4 Picasso people carrier, rose by 1.8 per cent to 286,000. This saw its market share hold firm at 10.4 per cent in 2007.

The final word on both manufacturers' sales success, and environmental awareness, goes to Sue Robinson, director of the Retail Motor Industry Federation's National Franchised Dealers Association.

She believes that the uncertain economic situation and increasing environmental awareness will inform car-buying choices throughout the coming year: "Smaller family cars and superminis will be high on the agenda, as families look for vehicles which are more economical to run and are more positive for the environment."

■ ALL IN ONE... satnav/DVD/CD and radio.

Seat's satnav sure to be a success

MODELS across the Seat range will be fitted with a Multimedia Navigation System should owners choose to opt for the hi-tech, 30GB Hard Disk Drive (HDD), DVD-based technology.

Costing £1,595 RRP, the same as the previous CD-based system, the new touchscreen Siemens device, with mapping data from respected industry name Navteq, is available to order now as an option on all Leon, Altea, Altea XL, Altea Freetrack 4 and Toledo models.

The system features a 6.5-inch full colour screen that is situated in the centre console, and also doubles as a smart CD/DVD player capable of handling numerous audio file formats including CD-A, MP3, WAV and WMA (Windows Media Audio). The unit can also read from most mainstream media types such as CD-R/RW, DVD-R/RW etc.

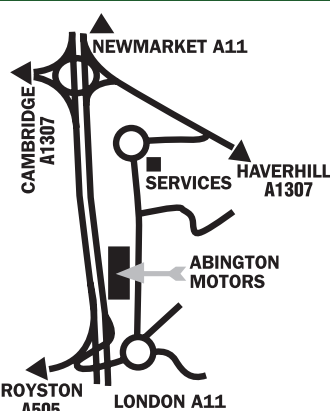

■ THE MINI CLUBMAN... has helped propel BMW to record sales.

Latest Mazda has 6 appeal

SINCE the start of "Zoom-Zoom" in 2002 it's been boom-boom time for Mazda, which has finally acquired some sort of consistency after years of random successes, writes Mike Scialom.

The Japanese firm has always set out to build cars with a good chance of staying competitive for a very few years. Think the MX-5, still the world's most successful convertible, with the rotary-engined RX-8 bidding for glory on the inside track. But overall Mazda had been an underperformer.

However, after declaring its core motivation – "dynamic and forward-thinking design coupled with sporty performance and a fun driving feel" – six years ago, the Japanese firm has acquired a lot of momentum. Expectations for the Mazda6 – launched, somewhat bizarrely, on Boxing Day – are particularly high because the Mazda6 was the first new-generation model to get the Zoom-Zoom treatment. So – has it worked?

Well just looking at the new incarnation you'll notice subtle but definite improvements on the outgoing model – a sportier front bumper, bigger air intake, cuter fog lamps, alloys are standard, the rear is more smoother and more sophisticated. The car's been wind-tunnel tested until its aerodynamics are best-in-class.

The interior is full of tactile materials, albeit in various shades of black, charcoal and grey. The instrument binnacles are nicely recessed and, like the audio and climate controls, look neat and purposeful. The TS2 saloon tested – the trim options are S, TS, TS2, Sport and Sport Luxury – has folding wing mirrors, rain-sensing front wipers, auto-dimming rear view mirror, six-CD autochanger and an integrated Bluetooth system.

The engine is Euro IV compliant and benefits from significant weight reductions on the previous model, making the 2.0-litre petrol unit tested 13 per cent more fuel-efficient (up to 39.8mpg) plus there's a 12 per cent improvement on CO2 emissions (down to 168g/km). The vehicle is now built from 90 per cent recyclable materials.

It's also superbly quiet at motorway speeds. Wind noise is minimal, there's virtually no vibration and the use of sound-absorbing materials has done the vehicle huge favours. The Mazda6 is lithe and eager in all standard road conditions, with involving steering and good feedback from the accelerator. The six-speed gearbox suits in-town driving as well as longer-haul runs. I liked it as a drive although I can imagine circumstances where I might want to have a close look at the 2.5-litre petrol or diesel options (like pulling a caravan).

Rear legroom is good. The Mazda6 is marginally larger than its predecessor, which is in line with industry standards. But its weight-saving and frugal fuel credentials ensure that it will be a successful choice (very probably mostly the diesel) in the user-chooser stakes. Unlike a lot of other options in this sector, the Mazda6 will also attract attention from private buyers.

BASICALLY...

The Mazda6 is no longer a worthy car riding just below the other contenders in the sector – it's a contender for the top slot itself.

It's a win-win situation for the Zoom-Zoom practitioner!

MOTORING

The Fringe is latest road terror

AS the celebrity trend for long, eye-skimming fringes rages on, Britain's female motorists are putting themselves and their passengers at risk.

Almost 190,000 admit that they have had an accident, "near-miss" or made a sudden manoeuvre as a result of hair impairing vision while driving.

The research, conducted by female-friendly car insurer Shellas' Wheels, reveals that a massive 67 per cent of women currently have a hairstyle that can fall in their eyes while driving. However, despite this risk, only a fifth of women (21 per cent) always secure their hair off their face before getting behind the wheel. Indeed, more than nine million female motorists say they never secure their hair before driving.

The most common reasons cited by women for not securing hair back in the car include not believing it necessary (33 per cent); not remembering to bring a hair tie (eight per cent) and not wanting to ruin an existing hairstyle (eight per cent).

Considering more than half of women (53 per cent) prioritise style over practicality when it comes to hairstyles, and more than nine and a half million female drivers admit to giving no thought to how their peripheral vision might be affected when sitting in the hairdresser's chair, this is an issue that women need to take more seriously.

As well as obstructing female motorists' sight, the latest trends are also distracting women's attention in the car – 57 per cent of women admit taking their hands off the wheel to sort out their hair, temporarily losing control of the car.

Women in Northern Ireland are the most trend-conscious, with 80 per cent admitting to changing their hair to follow their latest style icon. In contrast, female motorists in the north-east are the least fashion-following, with more than half (55 per cent) saying that celebrity trends never influence their style. Female motorists in the south west are the safest drivers – 53 per cent of drivers in this region rate their hair style as "totally practical".

Martyn Maxey, hairdresser to the stars, commented: "For some celebrities, a change of hairstyle is headline news. Take Kate Moss and The Fringe for example – in recent weeks we've been inundated with requests for the long fringe and despite it falling over the eyes, it's now a fashion statement."

Martyn Maxey's top tips for safe driving and gorgeous hair:

■ It is easy to keep a simple headband or Alice band in your car at all times

■ KATE MOSS OUT AND ABOUT... even the style on the left needs tying back to be totally safe, while The Fringe (above) is the most dangerous hairstyle for a female driver, say experts.

■ For the extremely style-conscious there are a variety of hair slides that are fashionable at the moment, from classic tortoiseshell to diamante 'bling'

■ For the ultimate in glamour, a pair of Chanel sunglasses on top of your head will push all stray hair away from the face

The following hairstyles were voted the top three most dangerous on the roads:

■ The long fringe (50 per cent)

■ Sweeping fringe (44 per cent)

■ Short layers to frame the face (five per cent).

Top five used cars analysed

HERE'RE the top five used cars of 2007, as defined by you, the buyer, from the 1.3 million-plus used car checks sourced from the UsedCarExpert.com advice website.

They are:

■ Ford Focus (1998-present) – "The no-brainer family hatchback buy which is comfortable, spacious and practical," says the online outfit's spokesman Matt Tumbridge. "Pre 2004 models still look good, and the car delivers on many levels, from driving pleasure to fitting all the family inside."

Most economical model is the 1.8Tdi, returning 57mpg, and best used buy, the 1.8 Zetec, has plenty of power and economy.

UsedCarExpert.com recommends 30 pre-buy checks, and prices a 1998 1.8 Zetec, that has done around 78,000 miles, at about £2,800.

■ Vauxhall Astra (1991-2004) – "Easy to live with and very good value," explains Tumbridge, "and 1998 models are more spacious and better built, whereas older examples are now the budget buys. There're thousands to choose from."

Most economical version is the 1.7 Dti, which rewards with 58.9mpg, and best used buy is the 1.6 16-valve Club.

UsedCarExpert.com lists 22 necessary checks, and prices a 1998 1.6 Club, with around 67,000 miles under its belt, at £2,275.

■ Vauxhall Corsa (1993-2003) – Tumbridge declares the Corsa is cheap to buy and run, and easy to own. "Models were much improved from 2000, and because there are huge numbers around, prices can be temptingly low," he adds.

Most economical variant is the 1.7Dti, with an overall 60.1mpg, and best used buy is the 1.2 16-valve five-door Elegance.

UsedCarExpert.com's website lists 25 pre-buy checks, and guide price for a 1998 1.2 Elegance, a 75,000-mile example, should be about £1,800.

■ Volkswagen Golf (1992-1998) – Golfs are easy to drive, safe and sensible, dull, but reassuringly solid, asserts Matt Tumbridge. "There're lots around now, and prices are getting lower, with running costs reasonable – and it is classier than an Astra," says Tumbridge.

Most economical model is the 1.9Tdi, returning 56.8mpg, and best used buy is the 1.8 90bhp GL.

UsedCarExpert.com's check list names 23 possible faults, and it prices a 1998 1.8 GL that stands at just under the 100,000 miles mark at about £2,750.

■ BMW 3 Series (1998-2005) – "Great to drive and look at, with a rock solid image which continues to keep prices high, are 3 Series hallmarks," says Tumbridge. "Avoid some of the base models, which are under equipped and may be difficult to sell on."

Most economical model is the 1.8 TD, which returns 50.4mpg, and best used buy is the 320d ES.

UsedCarExpert.com has just 14 pre-buy checks listed, and prices a 1998 320, with a mileage around 87,000, at about £2,800.

■ BMW 3 SERIES... great to drive, get a reasonable spec model.

■ AT LAST . . . the Audi TT S is due to be in UK showrooms over the summer.

Audi unveils its stunning 'S' version of the TT

BETTER late than never, Audi has finally produced an "S" version of the TT.

The TTS is destined for the UK in mid-2008 in both Coupé and Roadster body styles and features a power boosted 272bhp Turbo FSI petrol engine, capable of 0-62mph in 5.2 seconds. Opt for the S tronic dual-clutch automatic transmission, and acceleration times are reduced by a further two-tenths of a second.

The new sports model is the first TT to become a member of Audi's 'S quattro series' and has newly designed bi-xenon headlamps, a redesigned front apron incorporating larger air intakes and aluminium-look door mirror housings and deeper side skirts with 18-inch alloy wheels to boot. The revised rear will have four tailpipes to convey you're looking at the most extreme production TT to date.

Inside, the cabin is kitted out with Alcantara and leather combination sports seats, 'S' instruments with white needles, metal pedals and aluminium trim elements while the power steering has been reworked, the brakes enlarged and Audi's magnetic ride adaptive damping system has been fitted as standard.

MOTORING

■ FB278RBT . . . great looking unit.

Clarion's latest in-car audio system has style and substance

WITH the introduction of the highly stylised FB278RBT audio head unit, Clarion is able to deliver audio streaming and playback without the need for any mechanical parts.

The next-generation of audio source units, the FB278RBT has built-in Blue-tooth audio streaming and handsfree calling technology while MP3 playback is made possible thanks to an SD card slot behind the flip-down control panel.

The bold, futuristic looks of the FB278RBT are created through a 728 variable colour display, while indirect lighting on to the unit makes each of the four, white acrylic arched buttons either side of the central rotary volume control, appear to float like fins . . . creating the 'Metal Shark' design.

The Clarion unit is priced at £149. For information call Clarion on (01793) 870400, or visit www.clarion.co.uk

Prepare your car for winter

RESEARCH carried out by spark plug company, NGK shows that 40 per cent of cars on UK roads are more than nine years old, a trend that's likely to continue.

It's also a fact that bodywork survives better than it used to, often disguising problems under the bonnet. Regular servicing will not only give better performance, but an efficient engine means lower fuel consumption and greater reliability.

Simple checks on a regular basis go a long way to preventing many breakdowns. Easy to say; harder to do. A specific pre-winter service check should ensure that vehicles are ready to face difficult conditions. Basic checkpoints should include:

Tyres

Tyres should always be checked as worn treads are illegal and potentially lethal. Tyre pressure should also be regularly monitored and it's important to have an appropriate all-weather tyre fitted.

Battery

Battery failure is one of the most common causes of a breakdown. Sluggish starting is a sure sign that your car battery is getting old but check the starter motor before you go and buy a new one.

Radiators

Radiators could have leaks or cracks so take a look and it's worth testing anti-freeze while you're there. The washer systems need to be checked and water/cleaner should be topped up before journeys. Examine hoses for cracks or leaks and replace them if there's any doubt.

Wipers

Windscreen wiper blades should be replaced after a year's use, so check them out for wear and tear.

Exhausts

Exhausts work hard all year, so they're worth checking at any time of year. A check up could also save your car failing its MoT. Exhausts are most likely to split at the silencer or back box, but give little warning of a pending failure.

Cam Belt

A broken belt could wreck the engine, causing £1000s worth of damage, while the cost of fitting a new belt is relatively low. There are no warning signs that the belt is about to break.

Shock Absorbers

One thing you probably can't check yourself are the shock absorbers but the danger of driving a car with worn "shocks" is considerable.

Basic Precautions

Before setting off on a winter journey, check the weather and, if in doubt, stay at home. If you do set off, take time to run through the basic checks outlined above and keep a few essentials in the car such as a mobile phone, ice scraper, blanket and warm clothing.

So be prepared, stay warm and stay safe!

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

HIGHWAYS AGENCY ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(a) THE A14 TRUNK ROAD (HUNTINGDON RAILWAY VIADUCT, CAMBRIDGESHIRE) (TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2008

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the A14 Trunk Road at Huntingdon in the County of Cambridgeshire to allow for maintenance work to be carried out on Huntingdon Railway Viaduct in safety.

It is expected that the works will begin on, or after, Wednesday 30 January 2008. The Order will come into force on 29 January 2008 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order will be to –

- (a) impose 50 miles an hour speed limit on the A14 –

- eastbound carriageway between points 1.75 kilometres west and 0.45 kilometres east of the centre point of Huntingdon Railway Viaduct (the viaduct);

- westbound carriageway between points 2.45 kilometres east and 0.45 kilometres west of the centre point of the viaduct, and

- eastbound entry slip road at Spittals Interchange (Junction 23); and

- (b) prohibit vehicles with an overall width exceeding 3.45 metres from proceeding in the A14 -

- eastbound carriageway between points 0.25 kilometres west and 0.05 kilometres east of the centre point of the viaduct, and

- westbound carriageway between points 0.25 kilometres east and 0.05 kilometres west of the viaduct;

unless they are under police escort.

The works will take place overnight only between the hours of:

- (a) 9.30pm Mondays – Thursdays and 5.30am the following mornings,

- (b) 10pm Fridays and 8am Saturdays,

- (c) 8pm Saturdays to 9am Sundays and

- (d) 10pm Sundays to 5.30am Mondays.

Traffic signs will indicate the extent of the speed restriction (which will not apply to emergency service vehicles), and width restriction (which will not apply to emergency service, winter maintenance, traffic officer or works vehicles).

An official of the Highways Agency

General enquiries relating to this notice may be made in writing to Rob Barron at the Highways Agency, Woodlands, Manton Lane, Manton Industrial Estate, Bedford MK41 7LW or by telephoning him on 01234 796363

Essex County Council

(BRIDGE END, NEWPORT) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2008

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

EFFECT OF THE ORDER: To temporarily close the southern access point of Bridge End, in the Parish of Newport in the District of Uttlesford from its junction with the B1383 Belmont Hill for a distance of approximately 82 metres proceeding in an easterly direction. Access to Water Lane will however be maintained.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 21 January 2008 for sixteen weeks or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce to allow Kier Rail to carry out essential maintenance works to the adjoining viaduct.

The alternative route will be via Cambridge Road and Bridge End northern access point and vice versa.

Access will be maintained for emergency a service vehicles, residents and visitors all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 21 January 2008 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 24 January 2008.

Global Business – Local Opportunities

Product Support Engineer

Our success with supplying bespoke umbilical reeler/winch systems to offshore industries has generated the need to appoint a Product Support Engineer to enhance still further JDR's worldwide commitment to our clients.

Reporting to the Product Manager you will primarily be involved with supporting JDR's clients with maintenance and repair of umbilical handling winches and equipment on a worldwide basis, including offshore platforms.

You will have engineering experience covering both practical mechanical, pneumatic and electrical skills and really enjoy problem solving, sometimes in unusual environments. You must be prepared to travel world wide for limited periods, occasionally at short notice. Computer literacy with exposure to quotation preparation and project management is desirable but not essential.

JDR Umbilical Systems is internationally acknowledged as one of the most successful innovators of subsea umbilical package solutions for worldwide offshore oil and gas operations, and subsea power cables for the renewable energy sector. We have operations in the UK, Thailand, Houston and Norway and we are continuously investing in new people, equipment and facilities.

Please visit www.jdrcables.com and then email your CV to chris.donne@jdrcables.com or call him for an exploratory discussion on 01798 865735. Local interviews will be arranged outside working hours for suitable candidates.

This position offers a basic salary of £11,800 plus an excellent bonus structure, ongoing training and the possibility of subsequent progression.

For an application pack please call Tom Bushell-Smith on 01763 249144

Closing date for applications: Monday 1st February.

We are a leading regional Newspaper publisher and a member of Iliffe News and Media. Our titles include the award-winning Cambridge Evening News, 11 weekly newspapers, a stable of magazines and a suite of websites.

We offer a competitive salary, 5 weeks' annual holiday. Following a probationary period there is an option to join a contributory pension scheme and subsidised health cash plan.

Staffordshire Newspapers Ltd

Based in Burton-on-Trent

DEPUTY NEWS EDITOR - BURTON MAIL

■ Staffordshire Newspapers is looking for a dynamic person to help shape the future of the Burton Mail, the biggest-selling daily newspaper in East Staffordshire and South Derbyshire.

Your day-to-day role will see you leading from the front helping to run the newsdesk on this busy daily. You will also play a vital role in helping to develop our online website.

All the usual attributes apply - a nose for news, great leadership and team-building skills, the ability to excel under pressure and to generate brilliant ideas.

Please email your application, with a CV, to phazeldine@burtonmail.co.uk or send them to: Paul Hazeldine, Editor-in-Chief, Staffordshire Newspapers, 65-68 High Street, Burton-on-Trent, Staffordshire DE14 1LE.

FEATURES WRITER - BURTON MAIL

■ Staffordshire Newspapers is looking for a feature writer to produce top-notch content for the Burton Mail, the best-selling daily newspaper in East-Staffordshire and South Derbyshire, and some of its weekly titles.

Your main task will be taking the lead in thinking up ideas and producing content for the Burton Mail.

In addition you will be called upon to write feature articles for other publications including the Uthoxteter Advertiser and Ashbourne News Telegraph.

You'll be a senior journalist brimming with ideas, bubbling with enthusiasm and able to produce sparkling copy that stands out from the crowd.

You'll be organised, love meeting people and have a great feel for what works and what doesn't when it comes to newspaper features.

Please email your application, with a CV, to phazeldine@burtonmail.co.uk or send them to: Paul Hazeldine Editor-in-Chief, Staffordshire Newspapers, 65-68 High Street, Burton-on-Trent, Staffordshire DE14 1LE.

SPORTS SUB EDITOR/REPORTER STAFFORDSHIRE NEWSPAPERS

■ From football to fishing and rugby to running, we're proud of our community coverage across all of our daily and weekly titles.

It's an exciting time for local sport here with Derby County back in the Premiership and Burton Albion fighting for promotion from the Conference.

The Burton Mail, the best-selling daily newspaper in East-Staffordshire and South Derbyshire, wants someone who has a real passion for sport and can find stories that will get the community talking for both our daily and weekly titles.

You will also be equally happy designing cracking sports pages that will stand out from the opposition.

Please email your application, with a CV, to rpage@burtonmail.co.uk or send them to: Rex Page, Sports Editor, Burton Mail, Staffordshire Newspapers, 65-68 High Street, Burton-on-Trent, Staffordshire DE14 1LE.

With this position we offer a competitive basic salary and 25 days annual holiday. Following a probationary period there is an option to join a contributory pension scheme and a subsidised health care plan.

We are a leading regional newspaper publisher and a member of Iliffe News & Media Limited. Our titles include the Burton Mail, Heartland Evening News, 6 weekly newspapers, a stable of magazines and a suite of websites.

Staffordshire Newspapers Ltd

It is the company's policy to employ the best qualified personnel and provide equal opportunity for the advancement of employees including promotion and training and not to discriminate against any person because of sex, race, pregnancy, disability, marital or family status, age, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or trade union memberships.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Bates is a star turn as Hawks put to flight

THESE two teams had met the previous week and what was served up on Saturday was another feast of hard work and great football.

After several days of heavy rain the pitch was barely playable, but this did not deter the teams from putting on an entertaining match.

Thurlow still managed to play a good passing game, despite the conditions.

Marsh opened the scoring,

Hundon Hawks U11 0 Thurlow Youth U11 5

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 11A

Bailey and Bates both bagged two each and Smith kept his team's fourth consecutive clean sheet.

Goodings played superbly on the wing creating a couple of goals, several more chances and was unlucky not to get in on the scoresheet as the Hundon keeper made a string of fine saves from numerous efforts from him.

Hundon looked to have carved out a couple of good chances only to be denied by great defensive work from Ripp and Wilson.

But the star of the show was Thurlow's Tommy Bates with his excellent performance in the centre of his team's midfield.

He showed his full range of superb tackling, tricks and play-making with two goals for good measure, which earned him the Kirtling Garage man-of-the-match trophy.

Poacher Lowe pops up with late winner

AZTECS played against a strong wind in the first half and although the team found the ball difficult to control, good early chances fell to Harvey Tournant and Aaron Stock

Soham counter-attacked well, and took advantage of the wind to send in some superb long throws, which troubled the Aztecs defence.

Joe Norton-Palmer cleared a couple of dangerous crosses before some poor marking just outside the Aztecs area allowed Soham a free shot on goal that dipped under the bar for the first goal.

Aztecs were pegged back and another dangerous long ball forced keeper Michael Bentham to tip the effort round the post.

After some tactical substitutions and reshuffling of the pack, Tournant, Liam Basham, Michael Orriss and David Lowe had shots on goal, but to no avail as Aztecs had to defend well to finish the half.

Although Bentham had to make another save early in the second half, Tournant immediately produced a spectacular run down the right wing towards the corner flag and sent in a ball across for David Lowe to level the scores.

Aztecs secured the points when a good shot from Owen Boyce appeared to be heading just wide, but Lowe popped up on the far post to poach the winning goal.

Basham had a free-kick saved by the keeper, and Orriss sent in a shot just too high as the game drew to a close.

Linsdell strike sets Aztecs on the right road

THE wet conditions made for a sticky pitch, however both teams coped well to produce an entertaining Division 9D match.

Ben Linsdell opened the scoring early on when his left foot strike was parried by the goalkeeper, only for him to score from the rebound. Linsdell then turned provider when his superb through ball found Tyler Thurgood in a central position and he slotted the ball home with a typical sharp finish.

The visitors responded immediately when Harry Linsdell's fierce strike flew into the top left-hand corner of the net. However, the home side scored their third shortly afterwards when team captain Alastair Green cleverly chipped the ball over the keeper, following good work from Tom Howard on the right.

William Savill then grabbed his first goal of the season with a smart finish from close range. The visitors were swift to respond and netted their second at the end of an exciting first period. Both teams settled down quickly after the break and there were few chances at either end. As the playing conditions worsened, Toby Goodship showed some good footwork before racing clear to find the back of the net for Aztecs. Sam Goodwin then added a sixth for the hosts when he turned in an accurate cross from Ben Paterson. Whittlesford were never out of the reckoning and were given new hope with two goals in the latter stages. Only some resolute defending from Paterson prevented the visitors coming away with a share of the honours.

FOOTBALL

It's a Wiven-no
from Ben-Saud

STEVE Taylor has managed to convince Adam Ben-Saud to ignore overtures from former Haverhill Rovers boss Richard Carter, now at Wivenhoe, to keep him at Hamlet Croft.

The attacking midfielder came across to Rovers from Histon earlier this season and his good form has caught the eye of Carter, who managed Haverhill briefly at the beginning of last term before Taylor took the reins.

But, despite being offered nearly four times what Rovers are able to pay him, Ben-Saud has resisted the temptation to go up a level to play for Ryman League, Division One North, strugglers.

Taylor, whose side's game against King's Lynn reserves was one of 27 Ridgeons League Premier Division and First Division fixtures to be washed out on Saturday, said: "We had no seven-day approach from Richard Carter for Adam, which, seeing as he was manager here, would have been the decent thing to do."

"I sat down with Adam and his dad and he was going to make the move, but I explained that Wivenhoe are bottom of their league and we are fourth in the division below.

"It took a lot of convincing because he was offered stupid money, but we are glad he has decided to stay."

"Adam came across from

Histon when he thought the time was right to leave there this season.

"He's done really well for us after he settled in, and hopefully now we talk about a contract to keep him with the club for next season too."

Rovers will be looking to get

RIDGEONS LEAGUE CUP, QUARTER-FINAL

A GOAL in each half was enough to guide Haverhill into the last four of the League Cup with victory over Clacton at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday evening. Rovers went close through Joe Harvey on 15 minutes, but his shot went wide and Colin Vowden forced a good save out of the Clacton keeper four minutes later. But Harvey finally found the breakthrough with four minutes of the first half remaining when he headed past the visiting No 1 from a Lee Barrett cross from the left. And Steve Taylor's men's passage into the semi-finals was complete on the hour when a Wayne Goddard cross was not properly cleared and Louie Farrington smashed the loose ball into the roof of the net.

GOLF

Thomson proves too hot

HAVERHILL Golf Club's investment last year in additional fairway drainage appears to have been money well spent as, despite a partial closure of the course the previous day, Sunday's medal competition was able to go ahead.

Jim Thomson found the wet and windy conditions very much to his liking, producing a six under par score in the lower division, which was four shots too good for runner-up Gary Baird.

Andy Softley and Cliff Ryan were the other two section winners.

Leading scores:

Division One – J Thomson 64, G Baird 68, D Whiting 69, D Spittle, A Bareham, G Scott, J Brown, S Nichols 70, J Walker, A Fish 72, A Spittle 73, D Cohen, J Skillen, G Price 74, E Bareham 75, P McLennan, P McGarr, R Tavener 76, D Pipe, M Bennett 77, M Kingle, D Galloway 78, M Pickup 80, P Loomes 82, M Macnamara 83, D Whelan, A Craig, L Chandler, D Thomas, D Edwards, C Sisson N/R, D Cornelius disq.

Division Two – A Softley 68, W Penman, M Calmet 70, J Davis 71, S Turner, S Price, K Ward 73, J Stokes, D Roope 75, A Englebrecht, D Simpson 76, C Vince 77, R Gritti, S Piotrowski, A Lancee 78, D Wilkins, C Briggs 79, S Johnstone 80, M Dalena 84, G Hepworth 85, G Hutton, C Norman, K Mustoe 86, B Jones 89, E Nicholas 90, J Watkins 94, R Norden.

Division Three – C Ryan 70, T Pinckney, K Bailey 72, J Fox 80, J Mulley 81, M Turner 84, D Chapman 85.

■ Following a cessation of competitions over the New Year period, Haverhill ladies section failed to find a Silver Division starter in the Wednesday January Medal.

However, the higher handicappers proved more resilient with Jackie Condon capturing the Bronze Division with a net 77.

In second spot was Linda Bugg (78) while Sheila Playle on 88 took the second runner-up spot.

■ Two Silver Division competitors turned out on the Saturday competition. Pat Kennedy (77) was the winner, three better than Sue Carr:inner.

In the Bronze Division, Doreen Darbey (76) was the top performer. She had Gerry Wheatley four behind and Jackie Condon a further shot back.

■ The men's Midweek Medal only attracted 15 starters.

David Pipe was the lower section winner with a nett 68.

The runners-up were Mark Stanton (70) and Paul Loomes (75).

John Stokes (68), Eric Bates (72) and Richard Brazier (72) were the leading players in the intermediate group, while Roger Wheatley led his only rival Barry Shuter in the higher division.
